What To Do When Meeting a Collector
Here are some tips for you to remember when visiting a collector's home.

What you should do:

- ▷ Nod your head and say 'Mmmm' whenever he names a close-to-non-existent artist. He will NEVER explain the artist's work.
- ▷ Ask questions that make the collector feel superior to you. He will eat this up and call you his 'favorite fellow'.
- ▷ Start a conversation with his wife. She is clearly not interested in the same art as him, and she rather talk about her book collection.

What you should NOT do:

- ▷ Do not touch the TV. That is a piece of art.
- ▷ Do not be afraid of the life-size dummy that is working out. That is a piece of art as well.
- ▷ Do not ask where the snacks are at. Collectors do not have the best snacks.
- ▷ DO NOT bring up how the archives tour was more insightful and interesting than the collector's tour.
